

PROFILE

What is now Toyota Industries Corporation (“Toyota Industries”) was founded in 1926 as Toyoda Automatic Loom Works, Ltd. by the renowned Japanese inventor Sakichi Toyoda to manufacture automatic looms. The enterprise proceeded over the years to diversify into such fields as automobiles, materials handling equipment and electronics. In line with its strategy of globalization, Toyota Industries now has production facilities in Europe, North America and other regions.

The business universe of Toyota Industries consists of four segments: Automobile, which comprises the vehicle (automobile assembly), engine and car air-conditioning compressor businesses; Materials Handling Equipment, which specializes in forklift trucks and warehouse equipment; Textile Machinery, which covers the spinning and weaving machinery businesses; and Others, which includes electronics and other businesses. Each of these segments already has or is building a secure footing in its particular fields. While the Car Air-Conditioning Compressor and Materials Handling Equipment businesses currently make up the mainstays of Toyota Industries’ operations, we believe that the Electronics Business is well positioned to develop into the core of our future operations. Accordingly, we have been allocating significant resources to these three businesses.

Our long-term strategy is to establish a conglomerate premium through technological and market synergies among our various businesses in order to produce added value in terms of overall performance.
